Dear Friends:

We moved over and over and over again in the Air Force. The constant relocation is hard for any military family. It's even harder when you are the parent of a child with disabilities.

We learned as military wives, you don't run from challenges. You confront them. We've never stopped battling for our sons. That's why we remain strong advocates for all persons with disabilities.

While having loved our Air Force life, we know more can be done to help military families. We want to lead the Arizona Center for Disability Law into more advocacy for families who have relocated to Arizona military bases.

Did you know:

- There are four major military installations in Arizona: Davis-Monthan Air Force Base in Tucson; Luke Air Force Base in Glendale; Fort Huachuca Army Base in Sierra Vista; Army Yuma Proving Ground and Marine Corps Air Station in Yuma.
- Military families still face a variety of barriers to services like child care and special education.

We want the path for military families to be easier than ours.

In the last few months, the Arizona Center for Disability Law has provided direct legal representation to military families and conducted outreach at Davis-Monthan in Tucson and Ft. Huachuca in Sierra Vista.

Please help us ensure ACDL has the resources it needs to fight for the military families who fight for us. Sincerely,

Cathy Hunt
Vice President Board of Directors, Tucson

Margaret "Peg" Kepner
Past President, Board of Directors, Tucson

P.S. With your support, we can do more to ensure equal opportunity for the children of our military families.
